Headache.

This distressing malady is caused by a run-down state of the health, and is often a forerunner of other and more dangerous diseases.

Brown's Iron Bitters

cures headache by removing the cause of it; and this is the way it does it.

It purifies and enriches the blood, quickens the action of the kidneys, the liver and the bowels, and gently and pleasantly stimulates the digestive organs, and in fact thoroughly renovates and tones up the whole system—and you have no more headache. And besides it is pleasant to take, and will not stain the teeth nor cause constipation.

Is this not better than dosing yourself with disagreeable and dangerous drugs, which at the best can do no lasting good?

Don't be deceived by imitations. See the crossed red lines on the wrapper. Our book, "How to Live a Hundred Years," tells all about it; should be read by everybody; free for 2c. stamp.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Sutton & Co., of Baltimore, wholesale dealers in dry goods and notions, whose sample rooms are in the Hotel Lee, (corner Salem avenue and Commerce street) has just received and opened up the largest and most complete line of dry goods and notion samples ever exhibited in this city. Captain Booth will be pleased to see the merchants of the city and surrounding country at his sample rooms.

"One night, when Mr. Isaac Reese was stopping with me," says M. F. Hatch, a prominent merchant of Quartermaster, Washington, "I heard him groaning. On going to his room I found him suffering from cramp colic. He was in such agony I feared he would die. I hastily gave him a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He was soon relieved, and the first words he uttered were: 'What was that stuff you gave me?' I informed him. A few days ago we were talking about his attack, and he said he was never without that remedy now. I have used it in my family for several years. I know its worth, and do not hesitate to recommend it to my friends and customers." For sale by the Chas. Lyle Drug Co.

MILLINERY HINTS.

Birds Rapidly Disappearing, Victims of Feminine Vanity.

There continues to be an agitation in England over the bird question, and this, with the Egyptian plague of bugs in France consequent upon the wholesale destruction of wild birds there, seems to be causing a revolution of feeling in regard to the matter on that side of the water, which it is to be hoped will be imported and take effect here. The secretary of the Society for the Protection of Birds, in England, calls attention to the fashion of wearing in hats and bonnets a graceful spray of soft, fine plumes, with drooping or curly tips. These milliners call bird of paradise feathers, the assurance being constantly given that they are real. They are often mixed with osprey tips, of which, during the past season, one warehouse alone disposed of no less than 60,000 dozens. It is the general

GIRL'S TOQUE.

Impression, however, throughout the trade that the fashion must soon disappear, as the supply of birds is almost exhausted. The bird of paradise most used in millinery is that obtained in the Papuan Islands and New Guinea. Since Jan. 1, 1891, strict regulations for the preservation of the bird of paradise have been in force in German New Guinea, and M. Jules Forest appeals to the English and Dutch governments to follow this good example. "Civilized women throughout the world are earnestly entreated not to countenance the sacrifice of this bird by encouraging the demand for its precious feathers. Let them do what they can to prevent the extermination of this 'wonder of nature' by stoutly refusing to purchase anything purporting to have once belonged to a bird of paradise."

The vogue of bluets appears to be unimpaired. They adorn parasols as well as hats and are seen in all shades of blue, from the palest to the darkest. Straw hats are also trimmed with artificial fruit, cherries, plums and currants, mixed, oddly enough, with lilies of the valley. Crepe de chine, mousseline de sole and lace and chiffon are most worn, but straws and chips seem to be in the ascendant this summer and are really most appropriate for moral wear.

A sketch is given of a young girl's toque of coarse yellow straw. Clusters of crushed roses are placed in front and behind, touching the hair, and an aigret of lace adorns the side.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

Certain of It.

Bass had said the meanest thing imaginable about his landlady. He saw car after car pass by crowded to suffocation. "I wish," he said, "that Mrs. Skrimpem would board one of these cars; I am sure it wouldn't be full."—Boston Transcript.

Something Lacking.

Gosling (in his first dress suit)—What do you think of it, Tom?
Tom—Well, if you could only put on a more haughty air you would look almost as gentlemanly as our head waiter.—New York Tribune.

A Redeeming Fact.

"This is a terrible world," said the misanthrope. "A dreadful world."
"Y-a-a-s," replied Cholly, "it does seem so at times. Still the Pwince of Wales lives on it, you know."—Washington Star.

A Good Man.

"Have you got a good laundryman?"
"First rate. He brought me seven collars last week that didn't belong to me besides my own, and they were all my size."—Tit-Bits.

An Afterthought.

"So, sir, you went to that disgusting ballet!"

"Yes, darling, I—"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself. But did you see anything that would be a good design for a bathing suit?"—Life.
